Dear Barb,
Thanks for being such a nice friend. Remember all the cokes "the gang" drank after school. And the shows we went to see together. Above all don't forget those pictures we took out on the play ground. I hope your & Dale's future are very bright.
Loads of luck.

Good luck and much success in everything you do, Barb. Always keep that "Opana" smile
Shirley P.

Dear Barb,
Best of everything to cute & sweet gal. We had fun together this past year but not as much as last year. I guess you just wondered away from the gang when Dale came along. But I hope it will be a little different next year. Loads of Luck to you & Dale

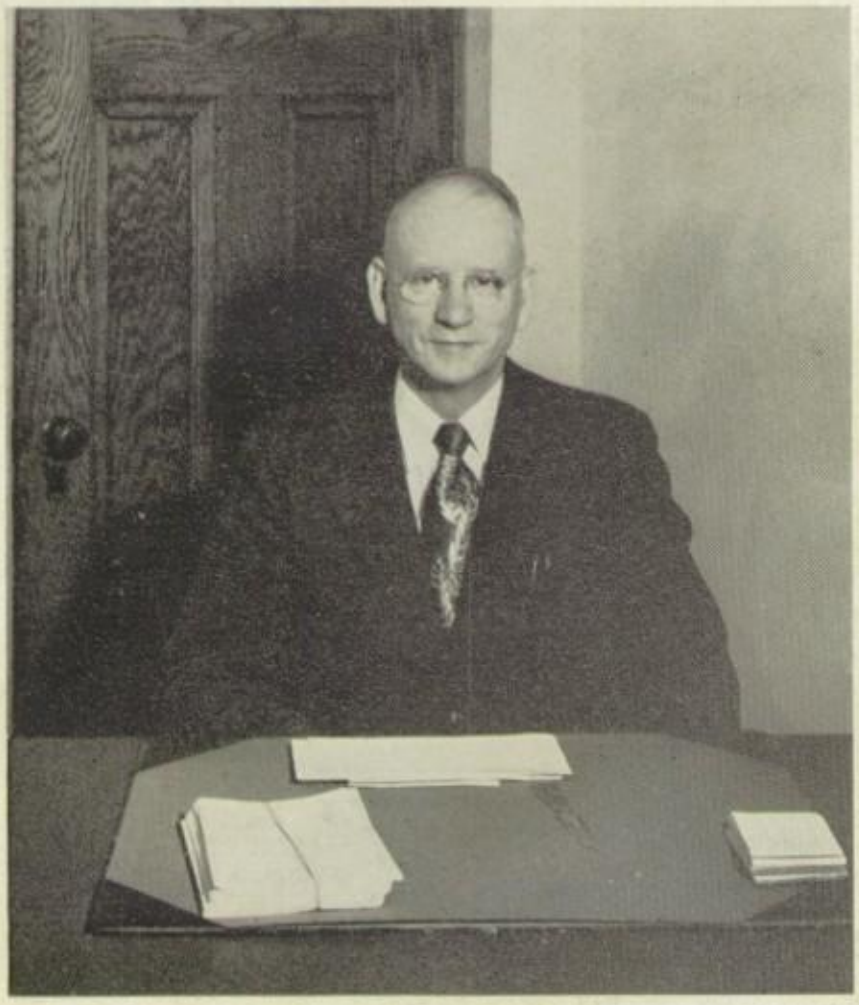
MR. ENGSTROM

Mr. Engstrom, with his dignified air, is one of the most respected members of the school community. His interests in sports and his understanding of students and their problems make him a very human individual in the eyes of the student body. We take pride in his being one of the best superintendents in Allegheny Valley.



MR. STOOPS

Principal of Tarentum High School

Mr. Stoop's bright new office is the nucleus of all school decisions and arrangements. Our principal has proved to be a valuable guide to Tarentum High Students in their problems and future plans. His wide-range of experience with teen-agers enables him to serve successfully as director of the Student Council. Being a disciplinarian is another of the important tasks on the shoulders of our able leader, Mr. Stoops.

Assistant Principal of Tarentum High School

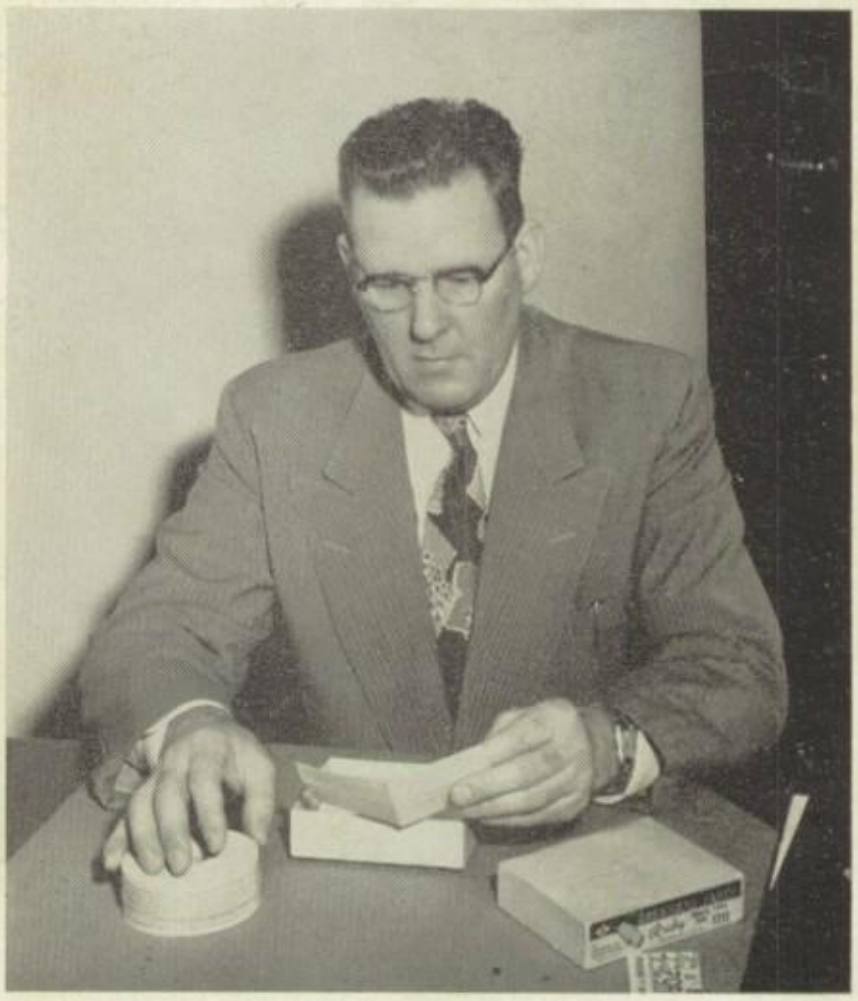
Always hurrying through the corridors of Tarentum High School is our ever-active assistant principal, Mr. Dodds. He cheerfully accepts his unenvied duty of checking the validity of absentee excuses, along with long hours spent on the ticket sales and the details of arranging the sports' schedules. He is a friend to all and has the remarkable ability of remembering every student by his first name.



MR. DODDS

LILLIAN E. COLE

Dedication

Old King Cole is a nursery rhyme character familiar to us all. But no less famed at T.H.S. is our very own "Queen Cole," who reigns over her "kingdom" of Juniors from her Room 33 "palace." Teachers come and teachers go, but the charming Miss Lillian Cole who has given many years of devoted service to Tarentum High School, is an alumna of the Land of the Red and Black. Her secret of teaching success lies in the fact that she enjoys her work immensely. Being a fountain of vitality herself, Miss Cole wages constant war against loafers in her classroom. A common sight to all Juniors is Miss Cole's cluttered desk, piled high in a hodgepodge of scattered papers and books. Though it appears as a jumble to the casual onlooker, the amazing Miss Cole knows precisely where to find every little thing. The study of parliamentary procedure is a phase of Junior English made enjoyable under the very capable guidance of Miss Cole.

The versatile English instructor does more than merely instruct. Miss Cole sponsors the very essential Radio Club, and also lends her years of experience to the preparations for the most colorful event of the school year, the J & S. She expresses great concern over the youth of today, and endeavors to instill in her students the idea that they will be the citizens of tomorrow. So it is that we, the Class of 1953, by dedicating our Quippus to her, offer our humble tribute to this remarkable woman.

Foreword

If you have ever read that delightful fantasy, Alice in Wonderland, which the members of the Quippus staff adopted as their theme, you doubtless remember the time Alice met the Cheshire Cat. It seems that Alice was lost and upon arriving at a fork in the road wondered which direction to take. When, lo and behold, Alice looked up in a tree and saw, of all things, a large cat! In reply to her question of which way she should take, the Cheshire Cat said, "That depends a good deal on where you want to go."

In a great many respects the Class of 1953 want to know which road to take. College, work, marriage, the armed forces—each one will have to determine his own course in the future and his goal in life. If we are like Alice and shrug our shoulders and flippantly answer, "I don't much care," we will probably flounder about for a long time and eventually settle into a routine for which we are ill-suited and unprepared.

When Alice heard that, she quickly interjected, "so long as I get somewhere." But that is precisely the point; we will not accomplish anything, if we do not plot our future course and face the world with a purpose. Setting a goal in life is running half the race and with Alice's example in mind we are sure to succeed.

Introduction

One warm autumn afternoon Alice was sitting under her favorite maple tree drowsily scanning her new story book. The humid, still air seemed to make her sleepier; her eyelids grew heavier and heavier. Finally the book fell to her lap; Alice was asleep. But wait! The fun was yet to begin, for Alice was quite a dreamer. Let's take a look at her special dreamland, Tarentum High School.

Administration

Alice's dreamland slowly began to unfold. A glittering object on the ground struck her eyes, and after cautiously approaching she found it to be a large golden key with the word "Wisdom" engraved upon it. As Alice stooped to pick up the key, her eyes widened at the sight of a massive door. "Will this key fit the lock?" pondered Alice. Timidly she placed the key in the lock, and lo and behold, the door swung open revealing a row of distinguished faces. She had come upon the administration of Tarentum High School.

Board of Education

Wisdom has been the guideword for the people who comprise the Board of Education. With Mr. Ernest Starke as their president, they have the welfare of the students always in mind. Headed by Mr. Esler, vice-president, and Mr. Clark, the athletic committee seeks the students' attitudes by following all school sports enthusiastically. The library group is under the guidance of Mrs. Kimes and Mr. Cordier. Mr. Kientz and Mrs. Anderson are responsible for the efforts of the Property Department, while Mr. Starke and Mr. Cordier oversee the money matters of Tarentum High School. Serving as secretary to the school board and to the Tarentum School District is Miss Edith McInnes.

Seniors

Such wonderful things Alice had met with on her journey, so far, through Wonderland! What would be her next encounter? Suddenly Alice's path was obstructed by a huge deck of red and black cards. Getting on the very tip of her toes, Alice was able to read the title of the thick deck, "Class of 1953." They were none other than the Seniors of Tarentum High School. A fierce gust of wind set the cards spinning through the air in all directions. "Where will they all land?" That was the question Alice asked herself. Who knows where life, as a gust of wind, will carry our seniors of "53"?

Senior Class History

On a sunny morning back in 1947 the Class of "53" passed through the portals of Tarentum High School for the first time. In retrospect we recall how big, how important, how mature those seniors looked to us seventh graders. How distant in the far-off future seemed the day when we would actually be Seniors. At our seventh grade Hallowe'en party we resembled leprechauns attired in ridiculous costumes and running rough-shod over the gymnasium. How enormous our arithmetic teacher, Mr. Hefferle, seemed as he towered over us like the Rock of Gibraltar. That was also the year we were treated to Mr. Tippery's amusing anecdotes. Our first year at the "big school" flew past, and before we realized it, we were out for the summer.

In Grade Eight our class assumed the role of globetrotters. We embarked on a series of educational field trips. (We were supposed to learn something on these jaunts, but if anyone did, it was strictly accidental.) Mirabilus dictu, we always returned with the same number of students that we started with. Highland Park Zoo, Carnegie Museum, Buhl Planetarium, and Phipps Conservatory were all given the "once over" by us explorers. But our biggest and most important trip was to the Ninth Grade.

Our Freshman class sported some new additions. Pupils from St. Clement's and Sacred Heart were added to our numbers. How handsome those new boys looked! With the aim of getting acquainted, we held a hot dog roast out at Bob Goslin's. What fun it was to walk home along Bull Creek Road with only the moon to light the way. We'll not soon forget the way Mr. Broffman sat upon his desk with one hand in his pocket and his tongue in his cheek as he pondered a question. We viewed the judicial system in action on a field trip to the County Court House. But the most significant verdict, as far as we were concerned, was the one our teachers handed down; we were now sophomores.

Sophomores had been reading "Silas Marner" for as long as anyone could remember. We were no exception. Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar" was also on our reading list, and we pestered our fellow students to listen to our oration: "Friends, Romans, and countrymen. Lend me your ears." Mr. Bovard's world history classes taught us a lot of hard-to-pronounce words that we have already forgotten. Mrs. Foultz's biology was enlivened when the grasshoppers "accidentally" escaped and went hopping all over the room. In like manner the year hopped right by and we were Juniors.

As Juniors, we automatically became salesmen. Candy? Stationery? Pencils? Peanut brittle? Sorry, no hot dogs. Mr. Kline's history classes taught us what we should have learned in sixth grade. "Macbeth" was Miss Cole's contribution to our Shakespearian background, while Johnnie Ray with his crying was the current singing rage. But there were no tears shed over the J & S which was held in the beautiful American Legion Home. Three short months later we were Seniors.

At last, after eleven long years, we were finally Seniors. The "Quippus" was ours to compose. It was a big job, but we were big seniors now. The Senior Prom was in our own hands, but these were the hands of seniors, and they handled it efficiently. December brought Christmas vacation. This was our last and we made the best of it. All too soon the month of May was here. Award Day, Class Day, Baccalaureate, and then graduation. As we filed out of the stadium with our diplomas clenched in our hands, we knew that if "All the world's a stage and all the men merely players," the curtain had just been rung down on Act I in our lives.

Lots of luck in the future to a swell girl.

FUTURE

Prophecy

While skipping along the paths of Wonderland, Alice saw a brilliant ray shimmering through the forest. She was so fascinated by this sight that she decided to follow it and made her way through the forest. With each step her curiosity rose higher and higher. Finally she stepped out of the forest and there before her was a long golden stairway which she started to ascend. Alice became very excited and the more she hurried, the more excited she became. At last she reached the top from which point she could look around and see all of Wonderland—it was truly a beautiful view!

Alice turned around and Oh!—a beautiful golden door marked with diamond and ruby and emerald letters loomed before her. Alice, ready to burst with curiosity, stepped up and read the bejeweled title, "THE FUTURE." Her hands shaking nervously, she reached out to touch the doorknob which opened the massive door. Her gaze immediately fell upon a city bustling with activity. Closing the door behind her, she became more and more "curiouser and curiouser" about exploring this new Wonderland. Her heart pounding madly, she began to explore the town.

Stopping at a corner drugstore, Alice was surprised to see JOHN LETTRICH standing behind the counter. She bought a newspaper from him and was surprised to see that the date was 1973, and even more surprised to see that this big city was named Tarentum. And her eyes fell upon a picture of LAMARR MALLONEE, who discovered a new element. In the left hand corner was another T.H.S. alumna; MARTHA WEGNER, the gay divorcee, just shed her fifth husband, reports her hard-working lawyer, DAVID JONES. Looking over the newspaper, she saw on the entertainment page that Mayor ROBERT McCALL was going to appear on JOHN ECHEMENT'S News Caravan on Channel 2, which is followed by CLYDE CLEMENTS Presents. Alice stopped a moment to read BETTY PRAZENICA'S charming column, "Beauty Hints," and she also saw that THERESA MICHALEK is the society editor, ALYCE SHAW, circulation and MARTIN MARTONIK, staff photographer. As Alice was reading the paper, BEVERLY SHICK went whizzing by on a motorcycle and JOHN told Alice that BEV was the Women's Champion motorcyclist.

Since JOHN had a customer, Alice left to continue her exploration of the town. The very biggest building in town was the ADAMS and ADAMS Department Store. Alice, curious as ever, decided to look around the store to see what she could see. The very first people she bumped into were the owners, ROBERT and DAVID, leaving for lunch with their respective secretaries, NANCY BURNS and ETHEL CHRISTY. Fascinated by the escalators, Alice rode up to the sixth floor where HILDA ARNOLD'S Beauty Salon was located; her oh-soo efficient receptionist was JEANNE ARTMAN. BABS BALISH, head buyer for the store, was talking to the floorwalker, DALE SOLIDA, when Alice reached the seventh floor, where the Women's Wear was located and Alice, as any woman would do immediately ran over to inspect the beautiful dresses and skirts. Her eyes popped when she saw some of the labels carried the names of members of the class of '53; some of the names were CARMELA MARINO Frocks and SUZANNE SEEL Fashions. Alice bumped into MARCELLA BLOOM, who has been the head of the bookkeeping department for the last ten years, and BARBARA EVANS and MARLENE DOUTT, who work in the office.

Seeing these Tarentum High Alumni, she decided to visit the school. She left the store and turned down RAY ELLIOTT Avenue, named for that famous millionaire, and was delighted to see that many of the business establishments carried the names of members of the Class of '53. There was McGRATH'S Dairy Store, the BETTY GAYLE (BASH) Shop, MATTERN'S Meat Market, MAHAN'S Gas Station, LIMAGE'S Glass Shop, JO DAVIS'S Flower Shop and LOUISE'S (DICARO) Clothes for the Femme Fatale Shop.

"Well, the Class of '53 certainly left their mark on Tarentum," thought Alice to herself, not knowing that there were many other members of the class of '53 still in Tarentum.

Prophecy

Alice kept on walking and finally she came to the high school. She walked up the steps and peeked into the auditorium. She couldn't believe her eyes; there was JEROME BORDONARO, lecturing on his travel experiences. Her eyes wandered around the auditorium and she saw ROBERT WAGNER, the principal, sitting in the rear of the auditorium with his secretary, JANE CHISLO. KENNETH DAVIS, the art teacher was sitting with Senorita PALGON and "Doc" JANICIK, who told her that Coach MURAR'S football squad won every game this year, while the basketball team, under BOB FREEMAN, lost only one. LIONEL BERKES, director of the school plays, told Alice that this year's ninth grade is the best he's ever had. HAROLD BOVARD, history teacher, and SHIRLEY CARTER, the gym teacher, seemed very interested in the lecture.

JOYCE SCHELM, the school nurse, told Alice that MARY ANNE HARTNETT, SUE SMOCK, GRETCHEN LANGE, CAROL FOEKS, MARGARET BIGLEY, and JANE GASE were all registered nurses and that ALICE GASE is a dietician. SHIRLEY BLAKE, the typing teacher, told Alice that GAYLE SNYDER has been named "Secretary of the Year;" last year's winner was JANET SMITH, secretary to the President of U. S. Steel, ROBERT MARMO. SHIRLEY also told her that SALLY YEASTED had been elected the president of Secretaries of America.

"Tarentum High School is very proud of their secretaries," SHIRLEY said, "especially of GERT ESSER, who is secretary to RICHARD SUMMERS, who is now head of the F.B.I."

Alice went backstage to talk to JEROME who told her that RAY COLLINS and JOHN MOCHANSKI were both Admirals on the Board of Defense in Washington, D.C. JEROME also told her that ROBERT MAZUR was playing big league baseball and had been doing quite well for himself.

As Alice was leaving, she met JERRI HAYS, one of New York's favorite models who gave her the scoop on some more members of the Class of '53: JOAN KOONTZ and DICK McINNES have been the toast of Broadway for several seasons; EILEEN THIMONS and BETTY VALCHAR were now models in the John Powers Models, Inc.; SHIRLEY GARZOTTO, JANET DURNELL, and DORIS HOYET have formed their own company, "Illustrators, Inc."; LOUIS PIATKOWSKI has written an original accordion composition which has been acclaimed the world over. The hottest band in the country was composed of Tarentum High alumni, DON YEASTED, DON NORRIS, CHARLES PELICAN, DICK SWANEY, RICHARD NAWORSKI, RICHARD FENOGLIETTO, WARREN STACK, and ANDY HRIVNAK with GERRI KRISTOFIK as their featured vocalist. SALLY GREENWOOD has been touring the night club circuit with her song and dance act. NORMA HOHMAN'S guests on her T.V. program, "Inside New York," last week were ROSE DePACE, SYLVIA DURCI, JEAN ELLIOTT, and ANNA MARIE YANNUZZI, members of the cast of a new Broadway musical.

After leaving JERRI, Alice went down to the new Tarentum Public Library and saw KATHLEEN HETRICK and CLARA RINGER sitting behind the desk. They told Alice that JOHN BRASHEAR, STANLEY BARTNIKOWSKI, JACK COLLINGWOOD, and WALTER CARNATHAN are foreman at the PPG. CLARA REINEHR'S new book, "My Life and Loves," was published by the MEANS Publishing Company—SAMUEL MEANS claims the book can't miss being a best seller.

Yosemite National Park boasts of having JOHN RUTKOWSKI, JOSEPH SADECKY, CHARLES PLOUCHARD, PAUL HINZ, and ROBERT SEKERAS as forest rangers. EMMA REEDY, EDITH POBICKI, MARTHA CLEVER, NANCY HAND, and VALERIE PERSUN are all happily married and busy rearing families. IRENE MANGA and VERONICA DURIAN opened their new

Calendar

SEPTEMBER

3 Remember how we hated to get up that morning! The first day of school and 8 o'clock seemed like the middle of the night.
4 Books, books, books, and, so we'd know that the vacation was really over, assignments—real ones.
10 The first week of school was over and the worst was yet to come.
12 Shades of Hattie Carnegie! The band and majorettes were stunning in their new outfits, and they performed in a manner to match their uniforms. 'Twas a good thing, for that helped soothe the sadness of losing the first game.
19 Hurrah! The cheerleaders' uniforms finally arrived in time for the Ken-High game that evening. Much to our sorrow we lost again.
26 The football games were becoming a routine. We lost to Springdale. Would our luck ever change?

OCTOBER

3-4-5 Did you ever see such artificial smiles? Miss Heilman's room was filled with neatly dressed strangers for their senior pictures. We didn't know our own classmates!
9 Extra! Extra! Read all about it! Free samples for everyone. The first edition of the Tarentumite was given to everyone.
10 No school today W.P.S.E.A. Convention. Although this day was a happy one for the students, Miss Toepfer suffered from an accident enroute to Pittsburgh.
15 Oh! Those frowns on the students' faces. Was it because of report card day?
17 Our spirits are mighty low. Shaler whipped us which added to our string of defeats.
21 This was a MOMENTOUS occasion. T.H.S. students screamed and yelled as we beat Swissvale, 13-7. Our first victory!
30 Outside entertainment gave us a change of scenery and the result: a constant tapping of the feet to the tempo of the music supplied by the Blue Jay Singers in a joint assembly.

NOVEMBER

4 Election day. T.H.S. students visited the polls to see how it's done. Voting isn't so difficult. Dwight D. Eisenhower was elected the new President of the United States.
19 If you've never held a live snake, you missed a golden opportunity when Mr. Raymon was here. He would have been glad to give you a chance. Goodbye Mr. Raymon, we were glad you came, and we were glad when you left.
23 The seniors came to their class party prepared to enjoy themselves, for an old fashioned square dance was the high light of the program. Even Bill Shoemaker tripped the light fantastic!
27-28 Another vacation. This time, Thanksgiving. It wouldn't be long until Christmas.

DECEMBER

3 Oh happy day—but was it for some students? This was report card day.
4 The Quippus Play, "Mr. Barry's Etchings," was an instantaneous hit. It was well-received by the townspeople.
16 The soft glow of candles held by our maroon robed chorus members provided a reverent background for the Christmas Program presented by Junior High.
19 The Christmas holidays had begun. Everyone was getting into the Yuletide spirit.
25 The long awaited day was finally here. Christmas Day marked half of our vacation was over.

Underclassmen

Continuing her journey through Wonderland, Alice was really amazed at the various sights that met her eye. Venturing down a wooded path, she approached a tall tree upon which were two shelves; the top shelf contained the jug labeled "Success" and the bottom, "Failure." Stretching to her full height, Alice attempted to reach for a jug, and with no effort whatsoever she was able to grasp the one marked "Failure." "But I don't want failure," decided Alice, "I want success!" She endeavored with all her might to reach the top shelf and how hard she had to struggle! Finally she grasped the desired jug with her little fingers, and with a smile on her face she said, "Now I'm sure to find my way to success."

Just as Alice wanted to have success, so do our underclassmen. It was easy for her to reach failure, but success took real effort. Let's hope our underclassmen will struggle, as Alice did, to attain success in life.

Activities

The Wonderland sun, directly over Alice's head, reflected on a shiny surface in a woods. Following the sun's rays, she was led to a tall framed mirror. Her investigation showed that it was not an ordinary mirror, but what was ordinary in this unusual land? As she stood before the glass, Alice noticed that her reflection did not appear in the glass; instead, she saw an endless corridor lined with doors. In the middle of every door were placed the numerous titles of THS activities. Boldly she stepped up to the first door, deciding to take a peek into every single one. Let's go with her!

Always busy making plans. They are sponsored by Mr. Slack. During the first half of this school year these boys earned a tidy sum selling candy. At Christmas time they were responsible for the Santa Claus who delighted many Tarentum children.

Alpha Hi-Y

This group composed of juniors and seniors, is always one of the most active in the school. With Mr. Bovard as their sponsor, the Senior Hi-Y accomplished three main projects this year: sponsoring noon dances, selling Christmas seals, and donating toys to underprivileged children at the Yuletide season. They found the real joy in giving rather than receiving.

Tarentumite

The Tarentumite, under the sponsorship of Miss Bark on the production, Miss Zetz, typing, and Miss Carlig, mimeographing, is our bimonthly newspaper. At first, the staff found it difficult to meet the weekly deadlines, but as each edition appeared, the task became easier to accomplish. Much unrecognized effort goes on behind the scenes to make a good paper, but this effort always produces a thrill when the staff reads its material in print.

Junior Classical Leagues I and II

Freshman and Sophomore Latin students have the opportunity to join the Junior Classical League, sponsored by Miss Toepfer. Since their aim is to promote more interest in Latin background, in their meetings they perform plays, sing songs in Latin, and do other interesting things. Every year they hold a banquet as much like a Roman one as possible. Their main project is, of course, to attend the Latin Festival at Buhl Planetarium, which is held in February.

The Junior Classical League

The Junior Classical League of Tarentum High School is busy bringing honor and prestige to the Latin department of the school. The Latin Festival held in Pittsburgh was the scene of their achievement. The Tarentum group did something that happens only once in a lifetime; they actually won four of the nine prizes. David Hill, a second year Latin student, won first prize in the Latin Achievement Test. He received a recognition medal and a five dollar award from the Classical Association of Pittsburgh. Robert Clements took first prize in notebooks, winning a recognition medal. Dwight Jack also received a recognition medal for winning first place in the scroll contest. In the Latin I group, four girls did a group painting and won first prize, a book about Romans, which will be given to the library. The girls are: Connie McCormick, Margery Pupach, Betty Lee Shondeck, and Betty Smith. There were 650 exhibits displayed. The group went to Buhl Planetarium on the eighteenth of February and David Hill was Neptune at both performances. Therefore, we should all give the Latin students a good handshake and a nice, "Well done."

Radio Club

It was a lucky day for Tarentum High School when we got our inter-communications system, but it was an even more fortunate one when Miss Cole formed the Radio Club. The members are carefully screened for voice quality, interpretation, and ability to make themselves understood, before they are admitted to the organization, which is affiliated with the National Scholastic Radio Guild. In addition to handling the morning and afternoon announcements in a competent manner, this organization presents dramatic skits, music, and educational programs over T.H.I.S.

Tri-Hi-Y's

The three Tri-Hi-Y's are organizations affiliated with the Tarentum Y.M.C.A. and the State Young Men's Christian Association of Pennsylvania. Their purpose is to create and maintain Christian standards throughout the community. Outside of their serious projects such as contributing to the World Service Project and sending delegates to Tri-Hi-Y conventions, the girls sponsor many social affairs. Among these are many bake sales, and the annual Christmas dance, which is one of the biggest events of the Holiday Season. During the course of their many meetings, they learn the value of friendships and co-operation.

Boys' Gym Club

The Boys' Gym Club, under the supervision of Mr. Clements, is one of Tarentum High School's finest organizations. During basketball season they organize into teams and hold games in the gym. The boys put their hearts into their work on the apparatus during the last few months of the school year for the biannual gym exhibition. Their chief objectives are sportsmanship and better developed bodies.

Sixth Row—C. Clements, R. McInnes, R. Swaney.

The Quippus Staff

Work, work, and more work—that's what the Quippus staff discovered is necessary for the completion of a yearbook. Each group of seniors had a specific task. The Literary Staff spent hours working on the writing and composing of articles, write-ups, and features. It was a job of measuring, planning, and arranging for the Make-up group. The Business Staff of the yearbook had money constantly on the brain. Their jobs were collecting boosters and subscriptions to finance the 1953 Quippus. Mrs. Heid and Mr. Rose were sponsors of the project.

Varsity Clubs

The varsity clubs are comprised of our rough and rugged men of the T.H.S. sports fields. Both senior and junior high have organizations headed by our football coach, Mr. Joseph Nary. During their meetings the boys watched movies of football contests and constructed new tactics for our sports. Many of the senior members decided against selecting the usual red sweater and instead chose stylish black jackets this year.

Student Council and Home Room Representatives

The Students' Association of Tarentum Junior-Senior High School aims to provide unity and co-operation between the faculty and pupils in all extra-classroom activities of the school and to develop the spirit, ideals, and reputation of Tarentum High School. It was decided that this year, the Home Room Representatives would meet the first Monday of each month with the officers of the Student Council to pass along their suggestions.

The 1953 Student Council is particularly proud of its insurance plan for students, the Christmas Decoration Contest, and the revised Tower.

Senior Science Club

ZZZ-Sput-Sput-Boom!—and another strange sound is heard coming from Room 21, followed by an equally strange odor. It's none other than those mad scientists known as the Senior Science Club. Under the direction of "Doc" Halter our physicists probe into the realms of Physics and Chemistry. It was organized in order to further the understanding of Chemistry among its members. An example of this understanding was the Science assembly put on by the chemistry class. The core of this class was our Science Club. "Science Marches On."

Science Club

The fundamental purpose of the Science Club is to further both interest and knowledge in science by means of individual and group experiments and readings. The members saw movies at their meetings and this year spent a great amount of their time in reorganizing the equipment and library in Room 20. On January 29, they presented a very interesting assembly program which included demonstrations by members and a radio play about Joseph Lister's discovery of antiseptics. The trip to Buhl Planetarium was one of the main events of the year.

Projection Crew

There is a vast amount of skill and experience necessary for operating the microphones and movie projectors of THS. Under the direction of Mr. Johnston, the boys of the projection crew have become proficient in this field. They should be given a vote of thanks for furnishing the music at our school dances and parties.

Stage Crew

These are the boys whose work is seen, while they themselves are seldom in the spotlight. It's their job to arrange the sets for our plays, prepare the stage for assemblies, and do any other general handy work necessary backstage. They are the often unappreciated crew of workers responsible for dong the "dirty work." Their sponsor is Mr. Bernabei.

Best wishes for success in

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL ASSEMBLY COMMITTTEE

Mrs. Tippery, Mrs. Rose, M. Lentz, H. Swaney, K. Say.

Senior High Assembly Committee

It is the aim of the Senior High Assembly Committee to have every pupil say, "Well I liked that program; it was enjoyable and I got something out of it." Early in the year a tentative schedule was drawn up and as diversified and interesting programs as possible were arranged. After much debate, a new plan was evolved this year. It was decided to have the various departments of the school and any clubs or home rooms that wished to, present a program.

Some of the highlights of 1952-53 schedule were: the four programs from the Antrim Bureau, those two fiery debates, the dramatic presentations, the musical programs, and several fine movies.

Junior High Assembly Committee

An old-fashioned Literary Society, the theme of Junior Hi's exchange program with Parnassus Junior High, was the highlight of the year's program. Each Junior High Class, and each Junior High Club sponsors one assembly program. The philosophy of the Committee is to have programs that are both educational and entertaining.

The Band

Atten . . . tion! For . . . ward! March! Did you see a flash of red? Why yes! It is no other than the Tarentum High School Band and the high-stepping majorettes, displaying their beautiful, new uniforms. Under the direction of Charles W. Schmitt, this active group was recognized as the most outstanding feature of Tarentum High's football season. Their long tedious hours of rehearsals were completely forgotten, when their drills were greatly received. The band's season not only consists of performances at all football games, but also parades, pep rallies, and other social events. The color guards are not to be forgotten, as they were expected to attend all practices also. For their wonderful co-operation and work, they attended a Pittsburgh University football game, and are honored with a Band Banquet in the Spring.

Batons up! Shoulders back! The Tarentum High School's high-stepping majorettes are marching your way. There is not only enjoyment in being a majorette, but plenty of hard work. These majorettes drilled long hours during the summer months, football season, and extra school time. But, along with their work came fun. They attended a Band Banquet honoring seniors, and numerous parties during the year.

Dance Band

One of the more recent additions to the musical department of Tarentum High is the dance band. Under the direction of Mr. Schmitt, the dance band engages in popular music. Their functions during the year include assemblies for neighboring schools, playing at dances, and other social events. The dance band is highly appreciated by the students of Tarentum High School.

Sports

As Alice wandered through that Wonderland of Tarentum High School, she became tired and decided to rest. Just ahead was a small knoll with a tree standing silently at the top providing a very welcome patch of shade. As Alice sat down beside the tree, something caught the corner of her eye. Lo and behold, spread before her was a huge chessboard on which were four chessmen of unusual appearance. The first one that caught her eye was a massive piece that moved slowly but powerfully. On his head was a crown and in his arm he carried a football.

"Now who could he be?" mused Alice. "I know! That's King Football."

Sure enough there he was in all his glory, showing the power that can be associated only with the "King."

"Long live King Football," thought Alice. But suddenly something whizzed by the king and up the other side of the board.

"Please stop, whoever you are," cried Alice, "So I may see what sport you are."

Suddenly the piece stopped in front of Alice, made a quick bow, and began to dribble the basketball he held in his hoof.

"And who might you be, Sir Horse?" asked Alice timidly.

"I am a knight and not a horse, I'll have you know, young lady," answered the knight. "I represent the game of basketball because the knight is a speedy, clever, resourceful, and classy individual; these, of course, apply to the game as well as to me, so I think I was well chosen. Don't you?"

"Well," said Alice, "I'm not much of an authority on such matters."

"Goodbye," cried the knight, and off he went at top speed; dribbling, shooting, dribbling, shooting. Then Alice saw a pawn coming toward her, swinging a bat.

"Hello," called Alice as she saw him smile at her and wave his hand.

"I know who you are," said Alice, "you represent baseball; there are more pawns than any other pieces and people fail to realize how important you are."

"Yes," sighed the pawn, "And the same thing is true about baseball; it is so important, yet people fail to appreciate it."

"Well," said Alice, "It's a great game and I think it would be all right for you to perk up and enjoy yourself."

So he turned around and went away whistling and crying, "Play ball."

"Humph," a voice to Alice's right said; and Alice jumped up, curtsied, and replied, "Hello, your majesty."

"Hello to you," replied the Queen as she swung her racquet.

"Why I know who you are," said Alice, "You represent tennis; tennis is a royal sport played only by a comparatively moderate number."

"Yes," answered the Queen, "I represent the sport of royalty that is very fast and clever, which is what the Queen on the chessboard is."

"You are a very good choice and I would like to talk to you longer, but it's time for me to go," answered Alice.

"Goodbye," said all the pieces.

"Goodbye," replied Alice, as she took her last look at the chessboard.

Football

A deafening roar rises from the crowd at Dreshar Stadium as a charging Tarentum back plows through the opposition's stalwart line for an impressive six points. Harassed by numerous injuries throughout the entire football season, the Tarentum squad was not able to develop its potential winning strength. Among many otherwise disheartening series of contests, the one exuberating victory was over the Swissvale eleven, won by a spirited host of Redcats. A surprising past season win was recorded when the Kittanning game was forfeited because of the playing of an ineligible member of the Kittanning squad.

Under the experienced coaching of Mr. Nary, the freshmen and four-year men both developed co-ordination and timing. The back field and linemen received special attention and training from the two assistant coaches, Mr. Broge and Mr. Bernabei. The latter also devoted many hours to coaching a successful junior high team. Good luck in the future, boys. Let's hope that "Old Man Injury" steers clear of the Tarentum Redcats in the 1953 football season.

Good luck to a sweet girl. Be good during the summer!

SENIORS OF 52

Write-ups and identification on page 96.

Ray Collins

As a pass receiver, "Chick" was one of the best. The team could always depend upon him for a few extra yards. This ability won him a place on the second team of the A-K All Star Team.
Letterman: 3 years.

James Bordonaro

Jim's position at guard enabled him to contribute greatly to the team's playing. He was always summoned to occupy a position of an injured squad member.
Letterman: 2 years.

Jack Tibensky

Our defensive playing sparkled when Jack was in there breaking up the opponents' plays. His brilliant blocking enabled our backs to slide through the defenses.
Letterman: 3 years.

Pete Roberts

Pete is well known for his brilliant offensive and defensive guarding, and this won him a position on the first team for both the W.P.I.A.L. and the A-K All-Star Team. Good luck, Pete.
Letterman: 3 years.

Rich Murar

A veteran of the gridiron, Rich is well-known for his extraordinary playing. His good sportsmanship won the admiration and respect of his opponents.
Letterman: 4 years.

Dave Jones

Although "Skip" was impeded by a leg injury during the entire season, he still was not stopped. His speed and agility on the field proved invaluable.
Letterman: 4 years.

Bob McCall

Bob's position at end, though he came only this year, proved how important a player he might have been had he been here longer.
Letterman: 1 year.

Bill Shoemaker

If the team needed a few yards, "Willie" would lower his head and plow through. He seldom failed. Bill's driving power was always noticed by the foes.
Letterman: 3 years.

Lloyd Mattern

Our rugged tackle, "Snooky" Mattern, prevented many a touchdown for our opposition and contributed much to our Swissvale victory.
Letterman: 3 years.

Fritz Magoc

Fritz's outstanding defense this year has made him one of the most valuable assets to the THS squad. His guarding accounted for many of our TD's.
Letterman: 2 years.

Bob Mazur

Bob's strategic position as fullback enabled him to get into the game and really fight. Though on the team only one year, the squad is convinced they could have never have gotten along without him and his confidence.
Letterman: 1 year.

John Brashear

Johnny is our vicious right tackle. Even a leg injury didn't stop our Johnny from completing his third football campaign.
Letterman: 3 years.

Bob Adams

Although Bob was new to Tarentum football fans he readily proved his worthiness. He carried the ball for many gains, but was hampered by an injury for a large part of the season.
Letterman: 1 year.

Basketball

After a rather remorseful beginning, coach Mel Klein's quintet surprised the faithful fans with sudden spurts of victory. Numerous predictions were refuted by an inspired team, such as the surprising upset of Vandergrift and our formidable foe, Har-Brack. As the season progressed capacity crowds were a frequent occurrence during home games. "The Masked Avenger," better known as Mr. Melvin Klein, coached the "Tarentum Troublemakers" to rapidly soaring fame. The heartbreaking loss to Leechburg crushed our chances for second place in our section of the W.P.I.A.L. Although their record is not superb, it is not blemished by their few minor losses. For their sportsmanship and fine playing, we can be proud of the 1953 T.H.S. basketball team.

Rich Naworski

Our tall forward "Bronco" can get a free shot if anybody can. He contributed much to our basketball season. Thanks, "Bronco."
Letterman: 2 years.

Rich Murar

Rich's ability to handle the ball aided the THS squad in their bid for the section.
Letterman: 2 years.

Bob Freeman

When Bob is in the game, you can rest assured all is well. His side shots are incomparable. What would Coach Klein ever have done without him?
Letterman: 3 years.

Baseball

After four consecutive defeats, all by very close margins, one, two and four runs, the Tarentum nine under their well-liked coach, Roy Tippery, won the four following contests. A satisfying setback was handed to Har-Brack, Sectional Champs, 8-2, since we had lost 4-3 in the previous game staged at the Heights. Closing the season with a 4-4 record, the team really proved to be a late starter, the last half being the more successful. The two boys most responsible for our resounding victories were Paul Gongola and Joe Seija, who each boasted batting averages which slipped past the 350 mark. Seija was also the workhorse of the Redcat mound staff, toiling in all the games except one and possessing an enviable strikeout record. However, it was the combined team spirit and fight which brought the boys to a successful 1952 baseball season.

Andy Hrivnak

"Skeeter" is one of our pitchers who has "something on the ball." He knows when and how to toss that ball.
Letterman: 2 years.

Rich Murar

Whenever the team needed a hit, Rich seldom let them down. His excellent play while at bat or at shortstop, made him a formidable foe.
Letterman: 4 years.

Bob Mazur

Bob's difficult position as catcher made it possible for the THS team to keep the opponent's score low and our team the winning one.
Letterman: 3 years.

Bob Adams

Bob was continually called upon to stop the opponents with superb pitching. His pitching ability contributed greatly to the team's wins.

Tennis

Whack! Whizz!—and a point is won by the "Jack Kramers" of Tarentum High School. Yes, it's that popular game that has recently developed into a fad among T.H.S. sportsmen. As soon as the tennis courts were completed, the exciting game became an added attraction on our sports schedule.

The 1952 tennis team, coached by Mr. Melvin Klein, who teaches them the fundamental principles of tennis, obtained for themselves a position in the T.H.S. sports circle. They have won several matches and presented a better game against Latrobe, the previous year's champions. Whenever they seek advice, their versatile coach is always prepared. Their skillful and inspired playing has set a firm foundation for future successful years. "Hats off" to the successful sportsmen, the 1952 Tennis Team.

Pool of Tears

You will recall in the story of "Alice in Wonderland," Alice was swept through a pool of her own tears. We have chosen this little incident as a comparison to our sometimes tearful childhood occurrences. These baby pictures may help to recall some often forgotten escapades of our first few troublesome years.

PEARLE G. SOBER
College of Wooster, A.B.
Columbia University, M.A.

The gracious, well-dressed lady of Room 10 is Miss Sober. Her senior English students leave her class with that gratified feeling of having learned something that day. Aside from her various activities, one of which is handling the Commencement program, Miss Sober travels, reads, cooks, and takes colored movies.

NELLIE M. BARK
University of Pittsburgh, A.B., M.Ed.

Sophomore English will never be forgotten when we recall its wonderful teacher, Miss Bark. Her sunny disposition and witty remarks make her classes as enjoyable as they are educational. Always on the go, Miss Bark collects coins, enjoys sports, and travels frequently. The sponsorship of the Tarentumite is in her hands. Miss Bark possesses the reputation of being a very dependable and efficient teacher.

BARBARA A. ROSE
Grove City College, B.A.

One of our most co-operative faculty members, Mrs. Rose, teaches eighth grade English in a most interesting manner. If Mrs. Rose had her way, she would always be traveling. All the eighth graders have heard her say at one time or another, "Use your common sense." She is the proud sponsor of the Junior Tri-Hi-Y.

LILLIAN E. COLE
University of Pittsburgh, A.B., M.Ed.

Life is rarely dull for the vivacious Junior English teacher, Miss Cole, who is constantly busy with her active Radio Club, but undertakes all her jobs with a ready grin. Travel, theater, reading, and cooking occupy her post-school hours. "All right" is her frequent classroom expression.

HOWARD E. WATTERSON
Grove City College, B.A.

Swimming, riding, writing, and directing plays are the main spare time activities enjoyed by the ambitious Mr. Watterson. With his novel, thorough method of teaching English to the freshmen, his classes have become known throughout the school. The freshmen will long remember their struggles with "Ivanhoe" and "Adrift on an Icepan." Mr. Watterson weekly reminds his classes that "Blessed is the man that putteth not off his work until the last minute."

PEARL L. COUGHANOUR
Indiana State Teachers College, B.S.

The bright appearance of our seventh grade English teacher is always a welcome sight in room 2. Miss Coughanour frequently restores order in her classes with a firm, "all right now, be quiet!" Traveling, reading, and attending plays are her sources of relaxation. Miss Coughanour is the school advisor of the sophomore and senior Tri-Hi-Y's.

FRANK STEWART
Allegheny College, A.B.
University of Pittsburgh, M.Ed.

Mr. Frank Stewart is a frequent user of the element of surprise, as any P.O.D. student will verify. He repeatedly alerts his pupils with an energetic demonstration or quick anecdote pertaining to the subject under discussion. Mr. Stewart efficiently takes charge of the numerous senior projects and activities, since he acts as their sponsor.

HAROLD D. BOVARD
Grove City College, B.S.

Mr. Bovard is the jovial story-teller who drums World History into the heads of the eager Sophomores. "Your projects are due Friday." In his spare time (?) he sponsors the Hi-Y Club. He is a true family man who likes sports and loves to roam the great outdoors.

ROY E. TIPPERY
Clarion State Teachers College, B.S.

Mr. Tippery, the seventh and eighth grade geography teacher, adds spice to his courses with his humorous anecdotes. Hunting, fishing, dog training, gun collecting, and wood working being his hobbies, he naturally sponsors the Sportsmen's Club.

DOROTHY J. TIPPERY
Geneva College, B.A.

Mrs. Tippery's home room is one of the unusual things in the school. On the walls above the blackboards are painted murals depicting scenes from classic novels. A mass of hobbies gnaws at her spare time, for she enjoys golf, chess, reading, bridge, and gardening. Under her careful supervision, the Junior High Assembly Committee turns out programs that the students really enjoy. She prepares her students for the future by teaching eighth grade history and seventh and eighth grade reading.

STUART L. KLINE
University of Pittsburgh, A.B., M.Ed.

Mr. Kline is the Junior's affable American History teacher who dabbles in politics on the side. His familiar chant, "I Like Ike," helped to round up enough votes to secure General Eisenhower's nomination at Chicago last summer. He beams with pride at the mention of his scout troop which he takes on many "intrepid journeys" into the wilderness to camp, hike, and fish.

JOSEPH W. NARY
The Pennsylvania State College, B.S.
University of Pittsburgh, M.Ed.

The coach of our football team as well as the ninth grade civic and history teacher and sponsor of the Varsity Club is Mr. Nary. He always has a friendly smile and hello for everyone even though he lives in enemy territory, Har-Brack.

NORMAN E. ROSE
Westminster College, A.B.
University of Pittsburgh, M.Ed.

Mr. Rose is the popular advisor of the Quippus Business Staff. He teaches World History to seventh graders and American History to eighth graders. His interest in students brings many to him for answers to their problems. Just ask him any questions on photography and you're sure to get an answer. His students usually give a slight groan when he passes out another of his famous worksheets.

MELVIN L. KLEIN
Slippery Rock State Teachers College, B.S.

"Work hard, play hard, laugh much" is Mr. Klein's motto. Mr. Klein teaches Plane Geometry, Trigonometry, and Senior Math, coaches our basketball team, sponsors the Key Club and has a sense of humor.

JESSIE E. LARDIN
University of Pittsburgh, B.S., M.Ed.

Miss Lardin is an enthusiastic collector of coins, stamps, and buttons, so who is better qualified to sponsor the coin and stamp clubs? She teaches mathematics to the Freshmen, always has a warm greeting for all, is very proud of her car, and likes to spend hours gardening.

J. ISABELLA MALCOLM
University of Pittsburgh, B.S., Litt.M.

Miss Malcolm is the poised, well-liked algebra teacher whose sweet smile brightens Room 31 every day of the school year. Every student is important in her effective method of teaching, which plants a permanent knowledge in her pupils' minds. Miss Malcolm's leisure time is spent reading, gardening, or cooking.

RAYMOND BERNABEI
Indiana State Teachers College, B.S.
University of Pittsburgh, M.Ed.

Will his smiles ever run out? Mr. Bernabei teaches mathematics to the eighth graders. He is also known around THS as that soccer player for Harmarville. As sponsor of the Stage Crew, he always has a group of boys in Room 7. He is one of the quietest teachers, but is very popular among his pupils and the Junior High boys whom he coaches in football.

ROBERT J. SLACK
Slippery Rock State Teachers College, B.S.

The seventh grade students depart from their first year at THS with a solid foundation of math built by their instructor, Mr. Slack. Work and quiet are Mr. Slack's basic principles for classes and study halls, and they are firmly carried out to the letter. He has made many friendships with the students of Tarentum High and is known as a "regular fellow" to the members of the Beta Hi-Y, which he sponsors.

ELGIN HALTER
Beloit College, B.A.
University of Pittsburgh, M.A.

"Doc" and his little friend "Umbriago" are a well-known pair around T.H.S. "Doc" is the modern Arrhenius who teaches the Juniors and Seniors the laws of science. He shows a keen interest in students who are willing to learn. "Don't you see?", he asks his confused students during one of his many lectures.

NANCY R. SCOTT
Monmouth College, B.S.

Mrs. Scott teaches the fundamentals of science to our 8th and 9th grade students. By performing experiments for her pupils, she is able to help them understand the hidden mysteries of the subject. Although she sponsors the Science Club, she still manages to find time for reading and learning to play the piano.

SARAH P. FOULTZ
Wilson College, B.A.
University of Pittsburgh, M.Ed.

Mrs. Foultz, a member of the Science Department, teaches Biology to the sophomores, and Science to the eighth-graders. As the sponsor of the Make-up Club and an advisor of the Assembly Committee, she is an expert who keeps the work of these two organizations on an even keel. During the winter months in her off-hours, Mrs. Foultz enjoys color photography, while during the summer months she is a golf enthusiast.

ELIZABETH M. DIPNER
Westminster, A.B.
University of Pittsbrugh, M.A.

"Bueno" is the well-know expression that has become so familiar to her Spanish students. Miss Dipner has a deep-founded interest in her Spanish Clubs and shows great patience when dealing with them. She is well versed in the subjects of English and Spanish, but when at home she enjoys reading and gardening.

NORA A. TOEPFER
Ohio Wesleyan University, B.A., M.A.
Carnegie Institute of Technology, B.S. in L.S.

Miss Toepfer, Tarentum High's well-known Latin teacher, is the possessor of a keen and vast intelligence which can readily be admired by the students and teachers. With a thorough knowledge of the Latin language, she explains the necessity and advantages of a good Latin background, which she ably provides. Traveling and reading, along with the time Miss Toepfer devotes to her Latin Club, leave very little time on her hands.

ARTHUR BROGE
Salem College, B.A.
California State Teachers College, I.A.

The firm looking gentleman who teaches the precise art of Mechanical Drawing, sponsors the Camera Club, and helps mentor the Redcat football team is Arthur Broge. Being the school's jack-of-all-trades, you may see him taking pictures in his expert way, welding, giving helpful hints about television, or repairing an auto for a brother pedagogue.

GEORGE S. NEASE
Carnegie Institute of Technology, B.S.

Buzz, buzz . . . ring, ring . . . clank, clank. These strange noises emerge from Mr. Nease's shop. His boys, who learn the principles of electricity, metal work, and tin work, thoroughly enjoy Mr. Nease's informal yet instructive classes. He sponsors the young men who in the future plan to be in the airforce or like to work with models and now belong to the Aviation Club. An avid sports fan, Mr. Nease is one of the best tennis players in the area.

PAUL D. JOHNSTON
Miami University

Mr. Johnston, who has probably taught at Tarentum High longer than any other person, is widely known among the alumni of T.H.S. as the man who taught them the rudiments of a very old craft. "PD" is the affectionate name secretly given him by many students. If he doesn't remember your name easily, you are dubbed with his favorite nickname for students, "Suds." In the shop he cannot be excelled and is considered by many as the finest mechanic in this area. He spends his time at home raising chickens and flowers, about which he loves to talk with his homespun humor.

CORNELIA McCAFFREY
Pennsylvania State College, B.S.

Miss McCaffrey keeps her students busy in her effort to teach them the art of homemaking. She thinks that both reading and swimming are wonderful ways of relaxing. "Oh my," her favorite expression, has become quite familiar to her pupils. She shows real enthusiasm for her work by sponsoring the Senior Home Ec Club and Junior Boys' Home Ec Club.

JANE B. HILTY
Pennsylvania State College
B.S. in Home Economics and Education

When you see students around room 5 walking around with their tongues hanging out and sniffing the mouth watering aromas that fill the air, you can be sure Mrs. Hilty's girls are at it again. Bowling, re-arranging furniture, and redecorating rooms take up her spare time. She not only sponsors a 7-8-9th grade Girls' Home Ec Club, but also a Junior High Home Ec Club for boys. Mrs. Hilty's students all agree to her charming personality.

JEAN CHARLES

Very few people cover more territory in Tarentum than Miss Charles does; she's our truant officer! Miss Charles is known over the entire school for her sunny smile and friendly greeting to all the students. Although her position may seem to be an undesired one, she appears to enjoy her work and is one of the best-liked employees of the school.

MARY A. BUCK
University of Pittsburgh, B.S., Litt.M.

Miss Buck, a familiar figure to the students of Tarentum High School, gives the I.Q., vocational, and personality tests to all pupils of the Tarentum School District. She is known for her excellent taste in clothes and her sincere interest in all students.

FRANK MANNING
Edinboro State Teachers College, B.S.

Young Rembrandts and Michael Angelos find Mr. Manning a most helpful person. He teaches his students the value of art and how to express their feelings with paints and a brush. Building is his main hobby and every summer he's designing and building a new home. To be County Art Supervisor is his ambition and with his talent we know he will be.

ELEANOR A. BALLINTINE
Slippery Rock State Teachers College, B.S.

There's no limit to the energy supply of the new addition to our faculty, Miss Eleanor Ballintine. Sponsor of the cheerleaders and G.A.A.'s, she also enjoys teaching health and gym to the female students. Miss Ballintine has that rare quality of making her pupils feel at home in her classes. Outside of THS she saves a certain amount of her time for girl scouting.

CAROLINE S. HEID
Hood College, B.A.
Carnegie Institute of Technology, B.S. in L.S.

Mrs. Heid reigns over her second home, the library. Those small dark eyes, which actually talk when she speaks, reveal the wealth of knowledge that she has. She knows the library system so well that she could probably find you a book in her sleep. You wouldn't believe it, but Mrs. Heid is quite a sport's fan. If you've ever found Mrs. Heid quite disturbed this year, it was probably over her constant worry about getting the Quippus to press.

CLYDE C. CLEMENTS
Slippery Rock State Teachers College, B.S.
University of Pittsburgh, M.Ed.

When we think of physical education, the name, Mr. Clements, is clearly tied with it. As the boys' physical director, he is well known and liked by students. Mr. Clements instructs the Gym Club, and coaches the Junior Varsity basketball team. He finds pleasure in reading and hunting, and looks like a "pro" on a golf course. His friendliness makes him a "pal" to all.

CHARLES W. SCHMITT
Westminster College, B.P.S.M.

The most popular "crooner" of Tarentum High is none other than Mr. Schmitt. The teacher of instrumental music, he is also the supervisor of the band, majorettes, colorguard, and dance band in school, and the V.F.W. Chorus outside of school. During the past year, Mr. Schmitt presented numerous assemblies before the student body. A handsome and stately man, Mr. Schmitt has a flashing smile for everyone.

CHARLES L. STEWART
Indiana State Teachers College, B.S.
University of Pittsburgh, M.Ed.

As you pass Room 13, "Quiet Please" can be heard coming from behind the closed door. His students know him to be an excellent teacher of Bookkeeping and Business Essentials. As the sponsor of the Student Activity Fund, Mr. Stewart has contributed many helpful suggestions in the financial department. His favorite pastime activities include gardening.

GEORGE A. SCHRALL
Indiana State Teachers College, B.S.
Pennsylvania State College, M.A.

When it comes to music, any problem can be solved with the aid of Mr. Schrall. The director of music from grades one through twelve, Mr. Schrall also directs the Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs, the Mixed Chorus, the Girls' Sextet and the Boys' Quartet. In his spare time, Mr. Schrall enjoys gardening, sports, and the rearing of two boys. He is very friendly with his pupils, and has a great sense of humor.

ALBERTA CARLIG
Indiana State Teachers College, B.S. in Ed.

Miss Carlig, one of the commercial teachers, is an avid TV and canasta fan. Many of her other hobbies are reading, corresponding, and the practical art of interior refinishing. In addition to her many activities, Miss Carlig enjoys designing and making her own clothes.

MARY ZETZ
Grove City College, B.S.

Sweet, amicable, and cheerful are three perfect adjectives for describing Miss Zetz. The informal touch she gives in conducting her classes makes her girls enjoy their subject immensely. She helps get our school paper, the Tarentumite, out on time and also sponsors the Senior Secretaries. Reading and knitting are her favorite diversions.

business school with ROSALYN DIGIRALOMO in charge. The Creekview Lodge is now a large businessman's club; FRANK MAGOC, JOSEPH PODOLINSKY, and JACK TIBENSKY, are the heads of this club. BEVERLY SMITH and VIVIAN COOK have opened a children's nursery. After serving their hitch in the Armed Forces, BOB SADER, FRANK PLANAVSKY, EDDIE KATORA, BOB McDONALD, and BILL SIMS went back to their old jobs. GERRY MARINO, MARGIE PLANAVSKY, and JANIS KIME work at the Bell Telephone Co. Their soft voices sound so friendly when they ask, "Number, Please?"

LAWREA SILLIMAN, ALFRETTA OSHELL, HELEN MOCHANSKI, and MARGARET ADAMS work in the offices of Allegheny Ludlum. The Allegheny Valley Hospital can be proud of their hard working nurses' aids, CHARLOTTE HOSACK, SHIRLEY MELZER, and ELIZABETH KRIVAK. JOANN MOTOSICKE has been touring the country lecturing, accompanied by JOAN MILDNER and GERRY DUDICS. "Madman Muntz" has nothing on PETE ROBERTS and BILL SHOEMAKER. Their unusual manner of selling used cars keeps the customer in stitches. ROBERT GOSLIN has been appointed the head of the JERRY MORGAN Enterprises, Inc. BETTY MARTZ, MARIAN KUCAVIK, BETTY KNOCH, and ESTHER WISE work in his offices.

"Well," mused Alice, "It certainly is plain to me that if those people hadn't gone through the Wonderland of Tarentum High School, they might never have been as successful as they are now. I guess that all the years that they spent in school weren't as bad as they thought; it seems to have helped them immensely."

She sighed and made her way back to the big golden door and took one last look at this new Wonderland that she'd found. She walked slowly down the stairs, awed by the success that comes to those who work hard for it.

Calendar

JANUARY

1 The first day of the New Year. Many students had already broken their New Year's resolution.
5 Our leisure days were over and we were back at the old grind.
13 We were shown the ABC's of the commercial department in an assembly program put on by the business students.
20 A television set was installed just in time to watch the Inauguration.

FEBRUARY

5 E. C. Ramsey, authority on international affairs, held us spellbound as he told of his experiences abroad.
6 There was a peculiar odor in the halls of T.H.S. as Doc's would-be chemists made H_2S—hydrogen sulfide to non-chemistry students. Man your oxygen masks.
11 Mr. F. Stewart's P. of D. classes were entertained by his impersonation of grounds for divorce—a drunken husband.
13 Black cats, ladders, etc., were shunned on this day, Friday the 13th.
20 A truly unforgettable evening for the seniors occurred at the Hill Crest Country Club—the occasion, the Senior Prom. Coronation decorations along with the mellow strains of Ozzie St. Cross's band provided a perfect atmosphere.

MARCH

4 The members of the Radio Club made their annual trip to Pittsburgh. Results—sore feet and empty wallets!
6 The end of the fourth six weeks period increased the Senior's anticipation of their coming graduation.
11 Report cards made their usual cheery appearance. Says who?
21 The Thespians enjoyed their trip to the Stephen Foster Memorial Theater to see "Billie Budd."

APRIL

1 Your shoestring is untied. April Fool!
2-6 It was again time for the traditional Easter Parade. We entered the Easter season with a joyful, but religious spirit.

MAY

1 If you heard a thunderous noise coming from the school auditorium, it was nothing to frighten you. It was just the audience giving the cast of the Senior Class Play, "The Curious Savage," its well-deserved applause for an unusual production.
15 The Juniors and Seniors attending the J & S were tempted to wear bathing suits in accordance with the under water theme, but they decided against it. Even so, it was breath taking, and it will remain a memorable event for both Juniors and Seniors.
20 The first step in commencement activities was Move-Up Day. Did the Juniors and Sophomores sitting in their newly-acquired seats detect a note of sadness in the voices of the Seniors coming from the stage as they sang their class song?
21 The annual Class Day ceremony marked the finish of the Seniors' high school days. Weren't some of the skits masterpieces?
24 The solemnness of Baccalaureate touched all Seniors as they realized just what the coming event meant to them.
26 Graduation Day had finally come. The Seniors received their well-earned diplomas and the good wishes of the school, but were there tears in the eyes of some of them as they filed out of the stadium? Only they know.

JUNE

12 The last event of the school year was the school picnic, held at Kennywood. Even the students who had already graduated left their troubles behind and joined in the fun.

to Barb.

Here is wishing you all the luck in the world because you deserve it.
Never forget the times we have had and I hope you will have at Chapmans. Be good to Dale, don't give him such a rough time. I am forced to release our Pinup
but if luck is on the future
I will come easy to you.
I will remember you.

Lots of luck on your future
Remember our little rivalry
we took in health class.

Judy
